HEAVY GUNS ON HYADES FOR 9TH FIELD ARTILLERY

Make Up Full Ordnance Equipment for Schofield
Regiment

Big deep-throated field artillery—4.7-inch field guns and 6-inch howitzers—arrived today on the Hyades assigned to the 9th Field Artillery, Schofield Barracks. Maj. Charles G. Mettler, Hawaiian Ordnance Department, was at the boat this morning checking over the guns and equipment and arranging for their trip to Schofield, which will be made as soon as possible.

These guns, it was said today, make up full ordnance equipment for the 9th Field Artillery. In addition to the artillery pieces there is harness and equipment for 200 horses.

As the 9th Field Artillery is being motorized this harness will not be of much use to that organization but will be used by other regiments at Schofield. Some of the artillery and equipment which arrived today is from Fort Williams, Maine.

These men must pass proper mental and physical examinations.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Sept. 21. — 1st Lieuts. William Hamilton Britton, Robert George Guyer and Robert Allen Sharrer, all of the Corps of Engineers, will reach here October 13 for assignment in Companies C and D, 3rd Regiment Engineers, for station at Fort Shafter. These officers were recently graduated from West Point and have been promoted from second to first lieutenants recently to fill the vacancies in that grade in the Corps of Engineers.

Maj. Gen. William H. Carter, formerly in command of this department, has received first honorable mention in the "Journal of the Military Service Institution of the U. S." for an able article entitled "National Advantage Dependent Upon National Policies."

The Fort Shafter exchange is always considering the interests of the men, as far as entertainments are concerned, for all the special films are promised, and the various vaudeville entertainments are secured when possible, and the exchange officer now announces that Miss Daisy Jerome, will sing Thursday evening, and she has promised to sing Harry Lauder's song "She Is My Daisy," dedicated to her by the great artist.

First Lieut. and Mrs. Harry C. K. Muhlenberg are being congratulated upon the birth of a son, September 17, 1916.

A general court martial consisting of Maj. William R. Dasliell, Capt. Otto B. Rosenbaum, William E. Hunt, Robert H. Peck, 1st Lieuts. Robert M. Lyon, John S. Sullivan, Alfred H. Hobbey, 2d Lieuts. Frank A. Sloan, Carl A. Harding and Alfred L. Rockwood, who will act as judge advocate of the court, will meet today. 2d Lieut. Thomas J. Camp will act as counsel.

The rains of recent date have done much to improve the appearance and condition of the grass on both parades and the greener and fresher appearance of the lawns and foliage has greatly enhanced the beauty of the post, after the long period of dryness.

Word has been received through the department that a folding organ and folding tables have been provided and will soon be available for the chaplain's equipment. The chaplain's outfit consists of a large recreation tent, a moving picture outfit, a supply of folding chairs for services, and the tables to be used for letter writing, reading and games. The entire equipment is to be used in permanent or semi-permanent camps for the recreation and amusement of the commands to which a chaplain is assigned. And in the semi-permanent camps when troops are in the field, the tent and equipment are to be used for the holding of religious services as well as for the recreation of the men.

Notice has been received from the Department Headquarters that Act of Congress dated September 8, 1916, revokes General Order No. 71,975, and documentary revenue stamps will no longer be required on certain legal papers.

Plans are now under way by which the books of the 2d Infantry library will be shelved in boxes, containing about 25 bound volumes, which can be arranged in tiers to suit the convenience of the room. This will make an improvement in the appearance of the room, giving the uniformity necessary in all libraries, economize space and also enable the books to be quickly carried out in case of fire or rapidly prepared for transportation in case

GRIDIRON STARS AT POST READY FOR BIG BATTLE

1st and 32nd Infantry Will
Have Strong Squads; 25th
Stars Out for Practise

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Sept. 20. — The parade grounds and grassy plain around the vicinity of the various organizations at Schofield Barracks are covered with football squads every afternoon. It looks as if every company, battery and troop intends to have a team ready for the fray when the season opens.

The 1st Infantry has lost the valuable coaching services of Lieut. Everett, who has gone to the Texas border for duty, but with a nucleus of strong players from last year's team still remaining and with Lieuts. John N. Smith and Gustav Gonsler to coach the team there is every reason to believe that the first will present a strong lineup.

The new regiment, the 32nd Infantry, is lucky in having Lieut. Woodfin Jones, formerly of the 2nd, as coach. He is sure to put the 32nd on the football map.

The 25th Infantry is getting up a company league and it will be some class. Lieut. Philoon is again coaching the E Company team. Lieut. Carr has been working for over a month with the G Company outfit and they are now running through signal practice in great shape. This team will have to be reckoned with this season.

F Company has about the same lineup as last year. Ware will be in the back field as usual, and will electrify the crowd with his sensational runs through the broken field. Wetherly should be even better in his long passes than before; Jones and Gaborrel are still with the company and will speed up the team at all times.

Lieut. Taylor will have 1 Company in better shape than last season. He has already begun working with them, and after instilling a little pep in the bunch, they may exert their latent strength and beat the best.

The 1st Battalion will be represented by teams from A and C Companies. A has the same team of a year ago. Sergt. Burns has made such remarkable improvement on the target range that it might be taken as an indication of similar improvement in his football. If he does improve, look out! He was a whirlwind last year, and A Company will then be mighty hard to defeat. C Company was unfortunate to lose Stafford, the Haskell man, who was the best quarter back on the island.

When the series starts the football enthusiasts at Schofield Barracks will have an opportunity to see as good football as at any of the minor college towns in the states. The championship game last year between Companies E and F was equal to any championship game. It was worth going many miles to see. But this year we will have many games just as hard and as good as that one.

of a hurried change of station for the troops of the regiment. The boxes in size and adjustment will be similar to those used in the modern library provisions.

The post library has had cut in the west wall an additional door for the convenience of the enlisted men so that they will not need to pass through the hall at headquarters, and can enter directly into the library room; a new concrete walk will also be laid to connect this new entrance with the main sidewalk on the west side of headquarters.

Great interest is being manifested both by officers as well as enlisted men in the baseball game, which it is announced will be played on the Fort Shafter diamond between the All-Stars of Fort Shafter and the management of Sgt. Brush and the 25th Infantry team on Saturday in the afternoon, exact time to be announced later.

START ROOMY COTTAGE AT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Machinery is being installed in the laundry room, including a modern washer, centrifugal drier, boiler, water heater and presser, which work is under contract by von Hamm-Young Company.

UKULELE PRIZE FOR LADIES AT ARMORY DANCE

An inlaid ukulele valued at $25 or more is to be the first prize next Saturday night at the mask ball in the armory, according to Sgt. Bruce W. Shelton, in charge. The prize will be awarded to the lady dressed in what the judges deem is best costume.

The ukulele is a beautiful instrument, being made of koa and inlaid with mother of pearl. Local musicians pronounce it a first-class instrument. A prize will also be given to gentlemen.

Prices are as usual, 50 cents for gentlemen; no charge for ladies. Proceeds from the dance will go toward the furnishing of enlisted men's club rooms. The big new library for guardsmen fitted up in the basement of the armory represents a portion of the funds from these dances. The dance on Saturday night begins at 8 o'clock.
